About WSCTF:

Worldwide Syringomyelia & Chiari Task Force is a 501c3 nonprofit organization based in Georgia with worldwide outreach. Our founder is a registered nurse with Syringomyelia and we are led by medical professionals compassionate about advancing understanding about Syringomyelia and Chiari across every medical discipline beginning with primary care to improve patient outcomes. Our mission is simple: Education.

We offer free educational sessions for medical professionals, families, and individuals affected through conference calls, presentations, and peer to peer meetings. We offer videos and free downloadable tools on our website. Participate as we share journeys and case studies about Syringomyelia and Chiari. Hear about a nurse's journey with complex multi-system involvement. Explore the body systems, cranial nerves, spinal nerves, and key aspects to explore on assessment.

Learn about helpful referrals to consider for patients with SM and Chiari. Discover the specialist who can quickly determine follow up appointments and rule out the need for surgery. Connect to a network of resources available for SM and Chiari and join our compassionate family today!
